We have then an Official Adrany soom to hon. members legal jurgon without meaning except to a lawyer. But it is for the public interest that the Official Administrator should be able to deal with the satute and that matter was brought before me. It struck me it would be better to have an Ordinance passed making a sort of perpetual succession for the Official Administrator, and in conjunction. with the Official Administrator I drafted this Bill. I may state I also sent it to the Chief Justice to see if there was anything objectionable in it. Although not bound to assist us in that way the Chief Justice is always extremely kind; and his services are wave available, and as Hend of the Court it is natural he should be referred to. He sargested one or two alterations which I have made, and this Bill is the result. It is parely for the public good, in order to put a stop to any question of that kind, which might cause perplexity to suitors and others, as to the peron in whom the estate is vested when a change has taken place in the office of Official Adminis-

The ATTORNEY GENERAL-I have to move the first reading of a Bill entitled "An Ordinance to smend Ordinance No. 16 of 1816, entitl-Ordinances in force in this Union there was an exception made, so far as girling a receipt stamp was concerned, for civil, military, and naval officers: Take for instance the Police. The ACTING COLONIAL TREASURER seconded His Excellency In connection with this Hill which the Attorney-General has explained in moving the first reading. I may state the circumstances connected with the Bill. The putting on of receipt stamps by civil servants was considered by the Government a short time ago, and there can be no doubt, I think, that under the existing law, inasmuch as the Civil Naval, and Military servants of the Colonial Government are not exempted, they should put a receipt stamp on. In some other Colonies where I have been I may state that such is done, but I was informed here, when I made inquiries, blat under a provious Ordinance they had been ex pressly exempted from putting on receipt stamps and that when the present Ordinance was passed there was an omission made in it cause there is no correspondence in the Colonial can find out showing why the omission was made, and therefore as the Attorney-General has remarked, it may be presumed it was by an error Now if in this Colony the fact of civil servants putting on a receipt stamp to a document on which they sigo a receipt for galaries would bring in any considerable account of money. should be rather disposed myself to place civi servants and naval and military officers in the same position as other persons, and I may say that in England when a Colonial civil servant groes to receive his half-pay, or whatever it may be, at the Crown Agents, he is always requested to put on a receipt stamp. Therefore if there were no reasons on the other side I should b disposed to think that civil servants in this Collar should be required to put on a receipt stamp. But I have been informed that if they did so it would bring in a comparatively it. In some Colonies, where I have been questions have arisen as to what number ment. He may hold in different capacities two or three different offices for which he receives different pay. Is he to put on a receipt stamp for his own salary only, or one for each according to his different capacities? These are points that have given rise to inconvenience However, there are points on both sides and after giving the matter every consideration was thought it would be perhaps more simple to exempt civil servants from putting on a receipt stamp when they receive their salaries and also Naval and Military Officers. The Bill was read a first time.

Mr. Francis said this was an application with reference to one of the officers of the Court. The motion are secut of the case of Alask Apone and they asked that an enquiry might be made into the neglect by the Registrar of the inties of his office, whereby he had allowed a wri to be executed by an unfit person and had given no directions whatever as to its execution. This the local insurance offices, is published by the W. C

A joint, affidavit had been filed by Mr. A. B. Johnson and by Lr. H. Gedge, of the firm of Johnson, Stokes and Muster Dir. Godge stated that on the 24th May he obtained judgment in the Summary Court against Apour for $939.25 and applied for the issue of a proper writ. The ap ication was received and outered and hander to Mr. Sangster, deputy registrar for signature. Mr. Sangator stated that he did not give any instructions for the execution of the writ, which was handed to the man Xuvier. Mr. Gedge went to the Registrar's office a few days after wards and saw X wier and asked him about the matter. Xavier stated that he had got the money but had left it at home. Ho was asked to get it at once. The same day Mr. Gedge was informed that X wier had ab sconded. The Ordinance laid down the duties of the Registrar in regard to the issue of write in Ordinanco 22 of 1882. Up to the passing of fluit Ordinance the execution of writer had been in the hands of the shariff who was course a responsible officer. By Ordinance 23 of 1382 the office of shoriff was abolished and the duty of executing write was vested in the hands of the Registrar and certain deputies. In this case the registrar, gave no directions with reference to the issue of this weit, and in consequences the plaintiff was deprived of the fruits of the judgment he had obtained. Xavier was described as being aide puby bailiff and in that position Mr. Apoar had paid the money to him. It appeared to him therefore that so for as Mr. Apoar was concerncould not issue another execution against him. He (Mr. Francis) contended that putting aside anything that had happened since that the Registrar by his neglect to give any directions for the execution of the writ had omisid plaintiff the loss of the fruits of his judgment. He was very badly hurt, but I soon stisfied myself that no bones were brown, and so I did not delay to land him. New-pe-shau Island, at the entrance to Nimrod Sound, as I had been up all the night hofore, and wanted sleep. On coming to anchor I found that the engines could not be turned astern and we nearly went ashore, but brought up with the anchor. Engineer and firemen at work all night on engines. and the compreders of the Yangtize, and walked across the island to the wreck; which is lying with its bows in a little cove like the head of ry dock, about east and west. I fancy that on lighting the land the captain put helm hard-aport. Had it been but the stack way the alcomr would have gone clear of the S.W. f the island, which is less than 200 yards from he wreck. The natives seemed friendly. I saw four packages of sandal wood, a quantity of matted palm last time, and what proved accentable -a basket of Hongkong sods water, to which we helped ourselves. . We spent the day in completing prepaintions for diving. At 5 p.m. four dehing boats, with about fifteenmen in each, started off apparently for the wreck. Got. up steam and went after them, and found them swarming around the fore hatch trying with inng bambo a with hooks attached to fish up cacgo. A rifle ball that struck unpleasantly close sent them into their boats, and after driving them well off suore and to leaward, we returned to the anohorage. Wednesday, 25th, got under weigh at daybreak in a thick, fog, and followed the shore round to the wreck. The next day, after exploding another charge of guncotton, we got the balance [10 boxes] and tried for the opium. Instead of its being stowed against the after bulkhead, as the captain in in captivity at Samaround. ormed me, the divers found floor in bags, and I then learned from the sompradore that there were 500 bags of flour and some Canton cargo abait the opining. We then began to through the bales of yarn, but after getting up two bales, the day was done, and a swell setting in from the southward obliged us to quit work and swing clear of the wreck. I hang on all night, hoping that the wind and see would moderate this morning, as the barometer was high but at daybreak appearances were unfevourable and although I was loth to leave without the opium. I felt that it would be imprudent to hang on any longer, as the rocks were only a hundred ards astern of us, and the engines not to be deended on in an emergency. NOW ON SALE IMPERIAL QUARTO. DICTIONARY.

DICTIONARY. WITH THE PUNTE AND MANDARIN PRONUNCIATION. An Angle-Chinese Dictionary, published at the Daily Press. Office, Hongkong. For comprehensiveness and practical service this Work stands unrivalled. All the new 1545 | words which the Chinese have of late years been compelled to coin to express the numerous objects in machinery, photography, telegraphy. and in science generally, which the rapid advance of foreign-relations has imposed noon them are here given in extenso. Each and every word is fully-illustrated and explained, forming exercises for students of a most instructive nature. Both the Court and Panti pronunciations are given to the accents being carefully marked on the best. principle hitherto attained. The typography displays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the sixe of body, thereby effecting a vast economy of space achieving a clearness not praviously attained, and dispensing with those yast margins and varant spaces which have heretofere characterized Chinese publications. To illustrate the vast-soupe of the work the following facts are submitted for consideration:-Chalmers' Vocabulary contains, about 16,000 Chineses characters, and Medburst's English and Chinese Dictionary about 100,000, whilst this work contains more than 50,000 English words, and upwards of 600,000 Chinese characters. Again, despite all the grammars and other elementary works as yet published, the student of this difficult language absolutely re-1352 quires examples to display the various applications and equivalents of different words whi have one general meaning. Of these examples this work contains more than five times as many as any other Diotionary hitherto pub-

> For practical purposes, the arrangement of the work is so nomplete, that a reference to its pages enables a p. u son who understands English to communicate effectively with natives who understand nothing but Chinese. In this respect the work will be found indispensable to all Europeans residing in China, and to the natives themselves it explains subjects fully with which very few indeed of them are perfectly acquainfed. To parties resident in England and interested in China it cannot but be invaluable occasion-
